

Gerry Danks

If you are looking for a real estate consultant with a lifetime history in the Canterbury region, then Gerry is the one for you.

With a successful background in sales he knows what it takes to achieve spectacular results. Hard-work, hard-work and more hard-work is the only way forward in a market as competitive as real estate.

With over thirty years sales experience, predominantly within the packaging industry he has dealt with numerous major clients ranging from fishing companies to chocolate manufacturers. During several years in the insurance industry he ensured those important aspects in clients lives were safe and secure.

Being a keen tennis player and golfer Gerry is currently a member of local tennis and golf clubs, nothing is quite as enjoyable as having that winning game of tennis or that new personal best on the golf course. It is this passion for excellence that Gerry brings with him to his professional career as a real estate consultant.

"In choosing real estate I have the opportunity to work with the public, achieve goals and use skills I have obtained.

I have accepted challenges that have come my way with a fast, focused and flexible attitude. I have been described as being friendly, approachable and meticulous in my work, but always endeavoring to keep my feet firmly on the ground."

"With business contacts and associates throughout Christchurch area and beyond, finding the right buyer or seller should be most achievable".

If you require an agent that has proven himself throughout Canterbury, then please call Gerry today.
